SR 99 – Aurora Bridge Suicide Prevention Fence

The City of Seattle, Washington State Department of Transportation (WSDOT), and the community are working to develop potential design concepts for a suicide barrier on the historic landmark Aurora Bridge.

The first step in this process was a community workshop that identified values and issues that should be considered.

The next step is to translate those values into conceptual designs at a design charette with key stakeholders and design professionals. Come see the results of the charette and share your thoughts.

Please join us See how community input from the January 30 workshop is being incorporated into potential conceptual fence designs.
